Kittrell's Springs Female College.

GRANVILLE COUNTY, N. C.

THE NEXT SESSION of this Institution will open the second Wednesday in February, 1868.

The location is unsurpassed for health and accessibility.

During the past session, in a family of nearly two hundred, there has scarcely been a case of sickness. The health of many invalid young ladies has been thoroughly restored by the celebrated mineral water found here and they have prosecuted their studies with entire success.

We are immediately on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, within less than a half mile of Kittrell's Depot, and in telegraphic communication with all parts of the country.

Every facility is afforded for the most thorough and extensive education.

The Faculty is composed of five male Professors and seven lady Teachers.

Everything is new. Our musical instruments, including Piano Organ, Harp and Guitar are of the finest quality.

Special attention paid to thoroughness in the English Course.

Terms MODERATE and ACCOMMODATING.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required. Millinery is in no demand at Kittrell's Parents tell us that their daughters cost them less here, in this respect, than even at home. Taking into consideration the items of dress and medical attendance, there is no cheaper school in the South. Besides, we are determined to accommodate our patrons as far as we can as to time of payment, and to put female education within the reach of the people, in the present depressed condition of the country. OUR DAUGHTERS MUST BE EDUCATED.

THE superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either family use or manufacturing purposes, are so well established, and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

The machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light-running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single machine,—using either silk, twist, linen or cotton thread, and sewing with equal facility the VERY FINEST and coarsest materials, and any thing between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner.

HAS THE NEGRO THE RIGHT TO VOTE?

Some people imagine, because Congress has required, by the Reconstruction Acts, that, in carrying them out, all negro men 21 years of age, shall be allowed to vote in the Southern States, that, therefore, the negro has the right to vote, through all time. It is claimed, by some negroes and others, that the negroes, having been invested by Congress with the right to vote, therefore it cannot be taken from them,—that the Radical party, aided by the negroes, will resist all attempts to deprive them of it: that such an attempt would cost blood! If they are entitled, of right, to that privilege, we would be among the last to deprive them of it. We sustain the vested rights of all freemen, whether white or black. Let us, without prejudice or party feeling, examine the subject:

Such a right was not, at first, and cannot now be, claimed for them as a legitimate result of the war, by any sensible, reasonable man. Their freedom was early claimed as such, and, without hesitation, the Southern whites yielded that claim, although it destroyed the largest share of their available property. Gens. Grant and Sherman hinted nothing of the kind in the articles of surrender. President Johnson demanded nothing of the sort in his policy, and the friends of the Howard Amendment declared that that Bill of Abominations set up no claims for Congress, as a right, to impose negro suffrage upon the States lately in revolt.

No one believes, not the most violent Radical and negrophilist believes, that Congress has the right to impose negro suffrage upon any of the States, without their consent, unless it be first settled that the Howard amendment is a part of the Constitution, and then that that article confers the right upon Congress. But the Congress itself has not yet pretended to claim this right. We suppose, then, no sane man believes, that if the Southern States are States—did not forfeit their Statehood by the war,—that Congress, or any other power in the general government, can rightfully and legally confer upon the negro race the right of suffrage in the States. It, therefore, the negroes do vote under the Reconstruction Acts, that fact does not and cannot give them the legal right to vote. They may exercise it as an experiment, or by the force of bayonets, but that they are legitimately entitled to that right, until it is conferred upon them by the free choice of the governing people in the States, no one can prove.

In fact, it is plain, that Congress does not claim this right validly, as against States, to confer the right of suffrage upon the negro race, in the Reconstruction Acts. If, as is claimed, the Southern States have been conquered and are no longer States, and thereby Congress has acquired the right to force negro suffrage upon the people of the South, without their consent, why does Congress submit that question to the Southern conquered States, to be determined by them, in order to reconstruction? Why did it not take the responsibility, to pass an act, nolens volens, investing the negro with suffrage, independently of the action of the States? The Reconstruction Acts, by submitting the question to the decision of the Southern whites and negroes, plainly concede that Congress has no right to force negro suffrage upon us, even as conquered provinces, although it does not hesitate to force upon them by the bayonet the experiment of negro suffrage.

But the fact that the Southern States are still States and members of the Union, is a matter of record, which no acts of Congress can vitiate. Nor can Congress ignore, how much soever it may desire to do so, that fundamental principle in our system of government, the inherent and necessary right of Republican States to control their own internal affairs. If, therefore, the Southern States are still States, their right to control the question of giving suffrage to a new class of voters is indisputable, and the attempt of Congress to force such a measure upon them is revolutionary and a usurpation, and, therefore, is a legal nullity. The question, then, of negro suffrage, of the right of Congress to impose it upon the States, is the great point at issue, now. It is a question still unsettled, and, until it is settled, negroes cannot claim the privilege, as a matter of right. But that Congress has never yet asserted its right to confer suffrage upon the people of any of the States, or of the Territories, is made palpable by the fact, that it has not attempted to force it upon any of the territories as a condition of admission as a State.

But the right of Congress to fix this foul blot upon the Southern States, is claimed upon the ground that the late revolting States are not free States, but conquered provinces—that the conqueror has the right to make terms for the conquered, and that the conquered must submit to any terms imposed. For the sake of argument, admit this position, which, however, has no application to the case. Who is the conqueror? Was it not the government of the United States?

But Congress alone is not the government. It is plain, that whatever terms or conditions are prescribed for the conquered people or provinces, must be acquiesced in by the legitimate government in all its branches. The government must be a unit in this matter. The fact that the government is not a unit in the matter of reconstruction, shows that there is a fundamental error somewhere. The lack of unity, in settling a question of this sort, proves that the system is wrong, or that there is usurpation. But admit that Congress has the sole control of the question, it is plain that that body is compelled to confine itself within the limits prescribed by the Constitution. It has no power at all outside of that instrument. When it goes beyond that instrument, its acts are revolutionary and a nullity. How does the United States government, acting within its legitimate powers, deal with conquered territory? We have only one example. California was in fact a conquered province, although the government stipulated to pay a consideration for it. Did Congress claim the right to do as it pleased with California? Did the government act differently, or claim the right to act differently, with that territory, from other territories? Certainly not. Was it not distinctly admitted that the vested rights of the citizens of that territory could not be interfered with?—Suppose Congress had claimed the right to force negro suffrage or Peon suffrage or Chinese suffrage, upon California, as a condition of admitting it as a State into the Union, does any one suppose the country would have tolerated it? Would not such a Congress have been scouted by the whole country? Whether, therefore, North Carolina and the Southern States be States or conquered provinces in determining the question of restoration or of re-admission and reconstruction, Congress has no right to annex such a condition, as would bring into union with the others a people whose political franchises and characteristics are totally different from those of the family of States. The attempt is insulting to the loyal States themselves, who have refused to admit negroes to equal privileges and franchises with the white race. But it is said the Southern people have endorsed the Reconstruction Acts. This is false. So far from it, the elections last Fall condemned those Acts, and we believe the elections of 1868 will bury them beneath the possibility of resurrection. When white people or negroes talk about the right of negroes to vote, let them remember that it is still an open question, and one which can only be rightly and legitimately determined by the white people of the States themselves.

A FARCE; (IN TWO ACTS;) OR THE PAINTER IN A NEW CHARACTER.—Mr. Andrews, the artistic delegate from Wake, in the so-called Constitutional Convention, distinguished himself on yesterday, in the proceedings of that body, by the introduction of an ordinance reducing the tax on Theatricals, and other exhibitions, (Ethiopian performances were not named)—and gravely moved a suspension of the rules, to the postponement of the special order for the day, the suffrage question, in order to put his ordinance through its several readings at once. Col. Jones, of Washington, moved to lay the motion to suspend the rules on the table, stating it as his opinion that the proposition was undignified, and altogether without precedent in the action of any legislative body, and thought there ought to be some satisfactory reason given for such action, before the Convention acted thereon. Mr Andrews stated there was—that there was a Company of Theatricals desirous of coming into the State, and of performing in Raleigh at an early day, but that the tax prevented!!! Shades of Gaston and Macon!! A Constitutional (so-called) Convention, called for the purpose of adopting a Constitution for a great State, consuming its time and the people's money in legislating for the special benefit of roving circus-riders and jig-dancers!

Mr. Andrews called for the ayes and nays, on Col. Jones' motion to lay on the table, which was granted, thus consuming at least half an hour in this shameful performance. The expenses of the Convention are not less than $1,000 a day—it is in session about five hours each day, and, hence, at a cost to the good people of this State of $200 per hour. So, Mr. Andrews' little diversion, of yesterday, in favor of the jig dancers, only cost the aforesaid good people one hundred dollars! His ordinance, having been passed over for the special order, will come up for consideration to day, when, we doubt not, he will waste another hundred, or two, dollars of the people's money.

Well done, Mr. Andrews; this is a fine picture you have painted—of yourself.

The "Constitutional Convention," (So-called.)

NIGHT SESSION.

THURSDAY, Feb. 20, P. M.

The Convention was called to order, according to adjournment, at 7½ o'clock.

The Suffrage question was resumed, Rev. Mr Welker on the floor. He, in alluding to Mr. Ellis' remarks, said that he (Mr. Ellis) had only used the argument, that had been used in this State for the last 100 years, viz: That God had created one class inferior, and to be made slaves of, &c. He argued that the simple ability to read and write did not qualify a man pre-eminently for suffrage. The negroes had been intelligent enough to support the party that was striving to raise them from their oppressed condition. They had been intelligent enough to be loyal to the government, and their services in defence of the country, if nothing else, entitled them to our gratitude and they should be enfranchised.

In lauding the colored race, he said, from what came under his immediate observation, in his own county, the colored man was superior to the white, in some particular—temperance, for instance.

Mr. Holt asked him if he held that doctrine, and used that language, in his county, ten years ago.

Mr. Welker replied that, ten years ago, he was not in public life; he did not then make speeches, but such had always been his opinion.

In regard to the disfranchisement of certain men, he could not ignore the fact that for four years treason and blood shed had swept over the land, and now, instead of submission and duty, we find defiance and disorder. Whether they should be admitted to the ballot, then, was the question to be asked. He believed that some men, who had gone into the service of the Confederate States, of their own accord, had in good faith returned to their allegiance, but there were men here still defiant and rebellious; they could not surely expect to have all the rights and privileges of true and "loil" men.

Gentlemen had threatened war. He (Mr. W.) did not mean to bandy threats with them, but he would tell the gentlemen that, if they ever dared to raise the sword, that these suffering people (negroes) would sweep down from their mountain fastnesses, gathering strength as they came, and like a mighty avalanche, crush out these men so thoroughly, that scarcely one would be left to tell the tale.

Mr. Forkner commenced a speech by abusing Andrew Johnson, and contending that Congress had legally all the power it claimed in governing these Southern States, and more too. In regard to disfranchisement, he was sorry that there was such a difference of opinions among the Western delegates. Reason should govern them, not passion. They should not legislate in a vindictive manner. Though threats had been indulged in on this floor, yet he would not be thrown off his guard. They should leave all party measures and issues, and legislate so that it would redound to the credit of the State. He did not believe in the power of this Convention to disfranchise anybody.

It had been said that there were men enough in this State, hostile to the government, to control the State, if allowed to vote, but this is not so. He did not wish to place a clause in the Constitution that disfranchised men that did not go with the Republican party, but would declare universal suffrage and equal rights and privileges to all. He thought there was more safety in a liberal course, than in a proscriptive one. If men were to be punished, this was not the tribunal to try them. If you pursue a harsh course, it will be a feather in the hats of the "rebels." The people of the West are for the most part Union men, but they are not yet satisfied about this thing you call negro equality. Though we were elected by large majorities, yet, if you examine the statistics, you will find that not a half a vote was cast.

Mr. Ray said that it was to endanger our safety to give rebels the ballot. They had given no signs of repentance, and, until they did, he wanted them to be kept down.—Universal negro suffrage was a fixed fact, and he was sorry that so many gentlemen favored universal white suffrage.

Mr. Holt said that while the Convention was on this question of disfranchisement, he hoped the cases of the deserters from the Confederate army, not only in this city, but SITTING NOW IN THIS HALL, might be investigated,—men who volunteered, but who, when called upon to expose their cowardly carcases, deserted, not on account of love for the Union, but because they were too miserably cowardly to face fire. Men who, in 1861, threw up their hats, shouted for the Confederate flag, men who taught us secession, now come crawling on their knees, professing to be truly loyal and des vering.

Hood, (negro,) by consent of the House, replied to Mr. Ellis' speech. He occupied the floor for some time.

On motion of Mr. Abbott, the House adjourned.

MORNING SESSION.

FRIDAY, Feb. 21, 1868.

The Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Atkinson, of the city.

Hood, (negro,) said the Reporter of the Sentinel had misrepresented him, unintentionally, in regard to the notice given by him of the introduction of an ordinance lifting the fine upon Justices of the Peace and Ministers of the Gospel celebrating the rites of matrimony. He (Hood, negro,) wished the ordinance read.

The Chair objected, saying that it could be read at the proper time. He did not think anything emanating from the Sentinel would have much effect, and he had no idea of having the document read, merely to please the Sentinel!

Hood, (negro,) replied it might have been misunderstood, and he wished it read, in order that its meaning might be made plain.

RESOLUTIONS, ORDINANCES, &C.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, a resolution requiring the Secretary of State to provide the Convention with stationery, &c. Mr. Jones said that the Secretary had, according to law, provided his office with the necessary articles, and if he had been called upon would have furnished them, thus saving the State great unnecessary expense. On motion of Mr. Jones the rules were suspended and the resolution was adopted.

The ordinance of Hood, (negro,) of which he gave notice yesterday, was next taken up and read.

The ordinance recites that, on account of an act of the Legislature, prohibiting marriages, unless under license from the County Court Clerk, such marriage is illegal and the Minister of Justice, solemnizing marriage, subjects himself to fine. On account of the death of the Clerk of Cumberland County Court, commissions had been issued by certain Magistrates (Messrs. McRae, Lett and Pemberton,) to certain Ministers and Justices to celebrate marriages, and the Ministers and Justices celebrating the rites of matrimony, under the commissions, should be exempted from all fines.

The rules were suspended and the ordinance was adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER—SUFFRAGE.

Mr. Tourgee occupied the floor. He, like the rest of his party, regarded universal negro suffrage a fixed fact. They, the negroes, had settled that question themselves. He paid the usual glowing Radical tribute to the gallant services of black men during the war. He alluded to the capture of Fort Pillow as a hellish massacre, and called Gen. Forrest an unhanged, blood stained traitor, who was now howling for a white man's Government.

In regard to forgiving and extending the rights and privileges of citizens to those men, who had striven to overthrow the government, he would not be willing to do it, unless they were really and sincerely repentant and willing to give to a poor, humble and down-trodden race, recently emerged from bondage, the same rights and privileges which they asked for themselves.

He continued in the usual strain, giving a description of the Southern white man's oppression of the negroes, since they had been freed. Even justice in the Court House had been denied to them in the most shameless manner, &c.

He concluded by hoping that the minority report of Messrs. Candler and Congleton, in its main features, would become the law of the land.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, next spoke.—As to universal negro suffrage, he, of course, favored it. In regard to the disfranchisement question, he wished to strike out the 9th section of the majority report, and insert a section, requiring registration, and the majority oath amended so that every registered voted shall swear never to aid secession of the State and to accept the political and civil equality of all men; that no man who had voted against this Constitution could register, for this Constitution provides for civil and political equality, and a man, voting against it, denies that equality, and, therefore, he could not take the required oath.

Mr. Pool said that as this was the most important question that had yet been before the Convention, he would postpone his call for the previous question until to-morrow.

Mr. Kinney next expatiated. He was next to the oldest man in the House, having cast his first vote in 1807. He indulged in a good many ancient reminiscences about things which, as he had not been able to read and write, he knew nothing about.—He told, too, how he had, when Chairman of the Registration Board in his County, prevented a young man from registering, who told him that he had fought in the Confederate army, and would do so again. He, (Kinney,) if it was in his power, would provide that no Minister of the Gospel, who had prayed for the success of the Confederacy, should vote. He had stated upon his canvass, and felt so now, that he was in favor of disfranchising all that Congress had put under the ban, for life, and as for taxing those men thus deprived of their rights, he would tax their property as long as they held a dollar's worth in this State. He could not for his life forgive them, and not one of them should, by his vote, be admitted to the ballot-box.

Mr. Parker thought that both Republicans and Conservatives would make mischief by going into extremes. He did not believe the enfranchisement of these disfranchised would endanger the safety of the government. He did not believe the acts of Congress required them to disfranchise any of our fellow citizens. It was not in keeping with the Republican doctrine; it was bad policy and dangerous, subversive to the best interest of the State. He could not, with clear conscience, advocate a Constitution that contained a clause disfranchising a portion of our fellow citizens.

Mr. Rich gave notice that he would occupy the floor this evening.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, said that the Chairman of this Committee on Suffrage (Mr. Pool,) had given notice that he would move the previous question. He hoped the courtesy of the Republican party on this floor would give Mr. Durham an opportunity to reply to their attacks upon their (Messrs. Durham and Graham's) minority report, this evening, at the conclusion of Mr. Rich's remarks.

On motion, the House adjourned until 7½ o'clock this evening.

X. P. G.—"POLITICAL DISABILITIES."

From Holden's paper, July 17, 1861.

"Recently, we have tried to impress it upon our readers that there were no signs of peace—no prospect of a speedy termination of the war. We knew too much about the stubborn, uncompromising and fanatical spirit of Lincoln and his party, to expect any thing but a blind and dogged persistence in their wicked designs. Some hoped something from Lincoln's Congress—others, from the delay of the traitor, Winfield Scott, to press rapidly the work of invasion—others, from the re-action against the war in the North—others, from England and France. These ideas have produced a lull in public anxiety, and we fear a laggard and dilatory spirit in prosecuting the war. We have tried to prevent this. Our conclusions from the same facts have been just the reverse of all this. We hope nothing from the Congress. We knew its material—that it would do what Lincoln asked for; the result shows, or will show, that we were not mistaken. Winfield Scott's delays are always alarming—he is ever slow. If he would rush forward, his foot might slip—but his delays are always dangerous to his enemies. The re-action in the North we considered worth nothing—it is good at "Yankee tricks." A thimble would contain all the conservatism of the North. She is too selfish to do anything that would endure to Southern benefit. If the South ever listens to Northern conservatism, here is a whipped people. If we get justice, and right, and peace from her, the sword and bayonet, and ball and grape and canister must get it, and it must be on our terms, not hers. As to England and France, it will be time enough to rely upon them, when they do something—not before.

From the day we read Lincoln's Proclamation, and knew it to be genuine, we gave up the Union as lost forever, and we were in for the war. We have never dreamed of any thing else since, but to conquer a peace. The South cannot be conquered if she will do her duty. Let her go into it with might and main. North Carolina must shed it, if it takes every dollar and every drop of patriotic blood she has. Conquer we must, in order to be a free and independent people—if conquered, we are serfs and slaves of the North. We therefore repeat, organize and arm!

"Call them out, we say, all of them who ought to be ready. Put them into the Militia if they won't volunteer. Drill them until their legs get limber. Stir them up.—Blow the fife, beat the drum, do something to arouse their latent courage, if they have any. Many of our brave boys are in the fight. Coax and urge or drive all out, who ought to go." Holden's paper, July 17, 1861.

"When we get a Colonel's or a Major's commission it shall be a fighting one, we'll not hesitate, then, about fighting, however much we discountenance and ignore, from principle, the duello. Our well tried hickory will flog be laid aside, for the implements of deadly warfare."—Holden, July 17, 1861.

What a poor world this would be if it had no women and newspapers in it. How would the news get around?

From the Richmond Dispatch.

LIFE INSURANCE.

Life insurance is rapidly growing in popular favor. The foolish prejudices that for a season prevented many from taking out policies of life insurance have been removed by the diffusion of correct and reliable information as to the principles on which life insurance companies conduct their business. It is no longer regarded as insuring life, but simply assuring the payment of a stipulated amount to one's family or other representatives in the event of death—the company doing nothing more than, in a business way, assuming the responsibility of paying a given sum to the insurer's representatives in the event of his death; for which risk the insurer, during the term of the contract, pays so much (annually or otherwise) to the company. It is a pure business transaction, based on calculations which have stood the test of long experiment. Properly managed, a life insurance company cannot fail. With an ordinary run of business, one company is as good and safe as another; provided the fundamental principles of life insurance are adhered to in granting policies, collecting premiums, and investing funds. After accumulating a sufficient surplus fund, what is technically known as the original capital stock does not materially add to the safety of a company, further than the parties holding the stock are severally and as a body pecuniarily interested in its affairs being judiciously and economically administered, thus resulting in larger dividends to the insured. Companies heralding and blazoning their millions of assets are not safer than other companies whose figures are not so large; provided the company with its small array of figures is doing an average run of business, and conducting its affairs on the principles alluded to above. As a Virginia enterprise, and one well-meriting the success we are pleased to learn it is attaining, we call attention to the Arlington Mutual Life Insurance Company of Virginia, which claims to be as thoroughly sound and safe as any life insurance company in existence. It was chartered by the Legislature of Virginia in January, 1867. It has had an unprecedented run of business. It has passed all the perils of its infancy. It has established its claims to public confidence and favor. As yet it has sustained no losses.—Its assets are rapidly increasing. With a due regard to the interest of its policyholders, it is administering its affairs on a well-guarded and economical basis. It assumes no extra hazardous risks. It imposes due restraints and limitations on insurers, but only such as long experience has fully attested to be vital to the success and safety of a company in the long run. Its terms are as liberal as can be afforded in good faith by any company. It is a Southern company, and its funds are retained in the South. In all the elements and advantages of a life insurance company its challenges comparison with any other. As such it can boldly claim Southern patronage especially, while it has an equal claim with other companies in every clime and latitude. Its principal office is in Richmond, Va., while it is establishing its agencies all over the land. The Rev. J. E. Edwards is President. The directory is composed of the best business talent in the city of Richmond. D. J. Hartsook, Esq., is Secretary, and Maj. J. H. Claiborne general agent of the company, to whom business communications may be addressed, and from whom any desired information may be obtained pertaining to the condition, responsibility, and operations of the company. The Arlington Mutual Life Insurance Company is a live, thrifty, active institution. It is not to be regarded in the light of an experiment. It is an established fact. No company is safer or better than the Arlington. It challenges investigation, and shrinks from no comparison with the best and most popular institutions of its kind on this continent. It claims public confidence, and especially does it claim Southern patronage.

[Lewis C. Hanes, of Lexington, N. C. is Agent for the Arlington.]

THE MCCARDLE CASE.—The case of ex parte McCardle will be argued on the 3d of next month. We hear that Judge Black and Hon. David Dudley Field will represent the petititioner, and the cause of military despotism will be sustained by Messrs. Carpenter, of Wisconsin, and Trumbull, of Illinois. There will be no lack of ability on either side, and the case will be memorable for all time.—Nat. Intel.

Senator Wilson is said to be deeply chagrined at the fate of Aaron Alpeoria Bradley, who was expelled from the Georgia Convention—for Aaron Alpeoria was not only a cullid brother but a shoemaker.

Forney says that President Johnson "sits in the White House by the judgement of Heaven." Well, Forney, isn't Heaven as good a judge as you are?—Practice.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The gentlemen composing the State Executive Committee are respectfully requested to meet in this City, on Friday, the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock, A. M., a full attendance is much desired. By order of the CHAIRMAN.

Raleigh, Feb. 12th, 1868.

"RECONSTRUCTION." (So-CALLED)

The "Sentinel" still grinds slowly, at a cost of considerably upwards of $1,000 a day, to say nothing of the mileage that has been paid, "by the most casual route." From all present appearances, the leeches, black and speckled, will hang on and suck until the Treasury is exhausted. They never had such a gorge before, and they never will have again.

On Thursday night, Suffrage was removed in incredibly speedy, full of the wrath and bitterness which have been collecting in the gall-bladder for a long time past. He predicted that it's "war of races" should ever come, the negroes would sweep the white men off the face of the earth, and intimated that he would be the last one of the niggers.

Mr. Forkner, of Surry, Radical, next occupied the floor. His views, so far as they could be gathered from what he said, are comparatively liberal. Of course, he goes at the bidding of the party, he says call irons, but he doubted the policy of disfranchising the white men of the State. He wanted the convention that the white men of the West were not prepared to look with favor upon this thing, or "negro equality," and if it was coupled with any extensive proscription of white men, as this convention party." Mr. Forkner is right. The people of the West,—and of the East,—will put a brand all such men of the State,—with put a brand on all such men of the State,—with the "Convention," which he will carry with him to his dying day, and which will, in the future, make even his own family ashamed of him.

On yesterday, Suffrage was all the "go," the level of the negro.

Mr. Parker, of Northampton, from a Radical stand point, made a decent speech, which did him credit. He said, last night, and was to speak to the question, accustomed ability and manly bearing in the chair manner. We shall be able, we hope, to give a copious report of his remarks to-morrow.

At a called meeting of Fire Co. No. 1, held on Thursday evening, for the purpose of organizing for the present year, the following officers were elected:

President—C. M. McKimmon.
Vice President—C. D. Heartt.
Secretary and Treasurer—R. Brooks.
Assistant Engineer—R. R. Betts.
Hose Director, were, on motion, appointed a Committee to solicit members for the Company.

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Mr. Beckeler, has ordered 1,000 feet of hose, and it is hoped there will be no lack of members for either Company.

Those wishing to take No. 1 will call at the store of Mr. L. E. Heartt, and give their names.

THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.—The Conservative Convention, which met in this city on Wednesday, the 19th inst., and adjourned on Thursday, the 20th inst., at 11 o'clock, A. M., is reported to have been a harmonious body, and to have done its work well. The following is a list of the delegates:

[Here follows a long list of delegates, which we omit.]

The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Mr. Beckeler, has ordered 1,000 feet of hose, and it is hoped there will be no lack of members for either Company.

Those wishing to take No. 1 will call at the store of Mr. L. E. Heartt, and give their names.

Fire Co. No. 2 will meet at their Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Fire Co. No. 3 will meet at their Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Fire Co. No. 4 will meet at their Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

DAILY SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1868.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING IN WARREN.

Agreeably to previous notice a large number of respectable and intelligent citizens of Warren County met in the Court House in Warrenton, on the 12th. Feb. 1868, in order to ratify the proceedings of the late Conservative Convention at Raleigh.

On motion of W. K. Barham, Mr. Peter R. Davis was called to the Chair, and Mr. Charles W. Sorsill was appointed Secretary. The Chairman explained the objects of the meeting in a few appropriate remarks.

On motion of Mr. William Eaton, jr., the Chairman appointed a committee of five (consisting of Mr. William Eaton, jr., Col. Wharton J Green, Mr. Jos. B. Jones, Dr. Thos. E. Wilcox, and John Watson, Esq.,) to prepare resolutions for the action of the meeting which committee, after having retired for a short time, reported the following resolutions—which were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That we cordially endorse the political principles clearly and forcibly set forth in the resolutions of that able and patriotic body, the Conservative Convention, which assembled at Raleigh on the 5th. day of February, 1868; that they are, in our opinion, the true principles of the Constitution of the United States, as it came from the hands of its wise and venerable framers, and as it now stands, and that upon their successful maintenance depend, as we believe, the liberty, prosperity and happiness of the people of North Carolina, and of our common country, as well as the fate of free institutions throughout the World. Resolved, further, That we especially approve the principle therein expressed, that each State in the Federal Union ought to have the exclusive control of its own internal affairs; a principle once dear to the hearts of all Americans, and which is associated in the mind of the enlightened statesman with the wisdom, virtue and fame of the illustrious founders of the republic, and with the lessons inculcated by our wisest and purest men during the brightest epochs of our history; a principle too, which is fully as important and valuable in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, as it is in Virginia, North Carolina and Texas, and which the people of every section must cherish and defend, if they are true to themselves and their posterity.—Resolved, further, That this inestimable principle is as essential to the safe and harmonious working of our system of government, since the South has acquiesced in the results of the war, and since the destruction of slavery, (which no intelligent individual imagines for a moment can ever be re-established,) as it was immediately after the adoption of the Federal Constitution.

2. Resolved, That we will endeavor, to the utmost extent of our power, by all fair and proper means, to sustain the principles above mentioned.

3. Resolved, That the Chairman be requested to appoint County Committees of two persons for each Captain's District, to take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., in this County, according to the plan recommended by the Convention.

4. Resolved, That the Chairman be also requested to appoint two persons from each Captain's District to represent the Conservatives of Warren County in a Convention of this Congressional District, to be held for the purpose of appointing delegates from said Congressional District to the Democratic National Convention.

5. Resolved, That if a Convention of the Conservative party shall be called to nominate State officers, we desire to be represented in that body, and that the Chairman be authorized to appoint two persons from each Captain's District in Warren county to attend said Convention as delegates from this county, if such a Convention shall be called.

6. Resolved, That we shall regard as seriously delinquent in the discharge of duty, and most censurably indifferent to the public welfare, every man, entitled to vote, who shall absent himself from the polls at the approaching election for the ratification or rejection of the new Constitution, and of officers, thereunder if it shall be adopted, unless circumstances, altogether beyond his control, shall render it impossible for him to attend.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Walter A. Montgomery, Mr. W. K. Barham, Mr. William Eaton, jr., and Col. Wharton J. Green, whose remarks were listened to with great attention and very favorably received by the audience.

The following persons were appointed by the Chairman as delegates to the Congressional District Convention, and to the Convention for nominating State officers:

Warrenton District.—William Eaton, jr., Henry B. Hunter.

Six Pound.—Horace Palmer, jr., Samuel Bobbitt.

Boutrus.—John M. Brame, Z. M. P. Cole.

Smith Creek.—William S. Davis, James S. Walker.

Nutbush.—Dr. W. J. Hawkins, Dr. Alfred Plummer.

Shocco.—Col. Wharton J. Green, John Watson.

Fishing Creek.—Dr. T. J. Pinchford, Jno. Buxton Williams.

Sandy Creek.—Charles J. Jones, Capt. A. S. Steed.

Judkins.—Samuel W. Dowtin, John W. Riggan.

Beer.—Nathaniel Nicholson, Col. Thos. W. Brooke.

On motion of Col. Green the meeting adjourned.

PETER R. DAVIS, Chm'n.
CHAS. W. SPRUILL, Sec'y.

"If there are ten loyal men in South Carolina—ten men willing to accept every duty of citizenship, THESE MEN ARE THE STATE, AND THE REST ARE CYPHERS."

This is Greeley's last notion of the Republicanism to be guaranteed by Congress to the States. And what of the other thousands, born, according to the Horatian creed, "free and equal," and endowed by nature with certain inalienable rights? Discretion is the better part of zeal as well as of valor, Mr. Philosopher, and unless your patrons are confined to the Bloomingdale Asylum, you should be too prudent to defend even a crazy cause with such palpable lunacy.—Nat. Intel.

SENTINEL.

Published in the City of Raleigh, N. C.,

Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly.

William E. Pell, } Editors.
Seaton Gales, }

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.

The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, moral and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

Jan 21-138-1w LYNN ADAMS.

Important Order from Gen. Canby.

HEADQ'RS 2D MILITARY DISTRICT,
CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 31, 1867.

General Order's No. 104.

I Paragraph II of General Orders No. 10, from the Headquarters of the Second Military District, dated April 11, 1867, is modified as follows:

SUITS FOR DEBTS.

Judgments or decrees for the payment of money on causes of action arising in North Carolina between the 26th of May, 1861, and the 20th day of April, 1865, and in South Carolina between the 19th day of December, 1860, and the 26th day of April 1865, shall not be enforced, by execution, against the person or property of the defendant. Proceedings for such causes of action now pending, shall be stayed, and no suit or process shall be instituted or commenced on such causes of action until after the civil government of the respective States shall be established in accordance with the laws of the United States.

Paragraph III of the same order is modified as follows:

SEIZURES.

Sheriffs, coroners and constables are hereby directed to suspend the sale of all property upon execution, or process under any judgment or decree of a court of the so-called Confederate States, or of the State of North Carolina, rendered between the 26th. day of May, 1861, and the organization of the provisional government of said State, under the President's proclamation of the 29th. day of April, 1865, or of the State of South Carolina, rendered between the 19th. day of December 1860 and the organization of the provisional government of the said State, under the President's proclamation of the 30th. day of June, 1865 unless the written consent of the defendant be entered of record, and except in cases where the plaintiff or his attorney, upon oath, supported by corroborative testimony, shall allege that the defendant is disposing of, removing, or about to remove his property beyond the jurisdiction of the court, with intent to defraud his creditors; provided, that no such judgment, so rendered, within the periods aforesaid, shall be a bar to the commencement, in a State court, of a new suit upon the same cause of action in any case in which, by law, the defendant may remove or appeal the same to a court of the United States.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

The sale of real or personal property by foreclosure of mortgage, is likewise suspended in the cases embraced in paragraphs II and III, of said order No. 10 as above amended, except in cases where interest money accruing subsequent to the 26th. of April, 1865, shall not have been paid before the day of sale, and all previous restrictions on such sales are revoked.

Paragraph IV of the same order is modified by substituting the 29th. day of April, 1865, for the 18th day of May, 1865.

Paragraph V of the same order is modified as follows:

SUITS ON NEGRO BIRTH.

All proceedings for the recovery of money on contract, whether under seal or by parol, the consideration of which was the purchase of slaves, made subsequent to the 1st. day of January, 1863, are suspended. Judgments or decrees enforced for such causes of action shall not be enforced.

Paragraph VII of the same order is modified as follows:

HOMESTEADS.

In all sales of property under execution or by order of any Court, there shall be reserved out of the property of any defendant who has a family dependent upon his or her labor, a dwelling house and appurtenances, and if in the country twenty acres of land, or so much thereof that the whole shall not exceed in value the sum of two thousand Dollars, and in a town or city, the immediate lot upon which such dwelling house is situated; and necessary articles of furniture, apparel, subsistence and implements of husbandry, trade, or other employment, to the value of five hundred dollars. The homestead exemption shall inure only to the benefit of families. In other cases the exemption shall extend only to the tools and implements of trade or employment usually followed by the defendant, of the value of two hundred dollars. The exemption hereby made shall not be waived or increased by the act of any defendant who has a family dependent upon him or her for support and the exempted property shall be ascertained and set aside by the sheriff or other officer enforcing the execution, who shall call to his aid two impartial citizens to make the necessary appraisement, and shall make report thereof to the Court.

ARREST FOR FRAUDULENT DEBTS.

Paragraph X is hereby modified so as to authorize arrest in civil actions or contracts only in cases where the demand is past due, and the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt sued for, or has removed or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors, or is about to leave the State with such intent.

EXECUTORS AND TRUSTEES.

Paragraph XVI, is amended by adding thereto: All proceedings in any court of North Carolina, or South Carolina, recognizing or sanctioning the investment of the funds of minor heirs, or of females, or of insane persons, in the securities of the late rebel government, or the securities of the States of North Carolina or South Carolina, created for the purpose of carrying on war against the Government of the United States, will be suspended until the question of the validity of such investments shall have been determined by the courts of the United States, or by mutual legislation. And nothing in the provisions of this order, or of the order No. 10 above cited, shall be held to bar or hinder the recovery, by suit, of the estate of any minor heir, female or insane person, (cestui que trust), whether in the hands of executors, administrators, trustees, guardians, masters or clerks of equity courts, and other fiduciary agents, or invested by them in their fiduciary character.

DISTILLERIES.

II. General Order 25, of May 20, 1867, is revoked; and on and after the first day of January 1868, the distillation of spirituous liquors in the Military District will be subject to such restrictions only as are imposed by the laws of the United States and of the States of North and South Carolina, respectively.

BAR ROOMS.

III. Paragraphs VI and VII of General Orders No. 32, dated May 30, 1867, are revoked, and the power to grant licenses for the sale of spirituous or intoxicating liquors is remitted to the proper local authories, to take effect on and after the 1st. day of January, 1868, and to be subject to the following conditions:

1. The municipal authorities granting the license shall be answerable that the parties to whom such licenses are granted, together with their sureties, shall be responsible persons and of good moral standing in the community, and that each principal and sureties shall be able to qualify individually in double the amount of the bond required, and that the bond shall be a lien upon the personal property of both principal and sureties, and upon proof of default shall warrant the summary seizure and sale of so much of the property of either or both as may be necessary to satisfy the forfeiture or fine and costs.

2. Drunkenness or disorderly conduct on the premises shall work the forfeiture of the license and of the penalty of the bond.

3. The owner or keeper of any bar-room, saloon or other place at which intoxicating liquors are sold, and all other persons interested or connected therewith, shall be regarded as principals in any action of damages growing out of any assault, riot, affray or other disorder occurring on the premises, or directly traceable thereto.

4. All bar-rooms, saloons or other places at which intoxicating liquors are sold, shall be closed on the day or days of any general or local election, and for the twelve hours next preceding the opening and next succeeding the closing of the polls at such election; and the sheriffs of counties and districts and the chief of police of cities and towns shall have power to direct the closing of bar-rooms and other places for the sale of intoxicating liquors, whenever it may be necessary in their judgment to preserve order and quiet.

5. The proceeds of all licenses, forfeitures and fines, under the local regulations or under the provisions of military orders, will be devoted to the support of the poor, and as soon as realized will be turned over to the Commissioners or Overseers of the poor of the District County, City or Town in which they are accrued, and the Commissioners or Overseers will at the end of each month report to the Provost Marshal-General of the District the amount received by them during the month specifying the name of the parties from whom it was received.

6. The penalties imposed by this Order or by the local police regulations, may be enforced in any civil or military Court, and upon conviction the Court may award to the informer a sum not exceeding fifty per cent. of the forfeiture or fine. It is made the duty of all Sheriffs, Constables, and Coroners of Counties and Districts, and the police of cities and towns, to be vigilant in the enforcement of the police regulations and the provisions of this order in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The provisions of this paragraph will be held to apply to such licenses granted under General Orders No. 32, to inn-keepers, as remain unexpired after the 31st of January, 1868.

DISTRICT COURTS.

IV. To facilitate the speedy trial of prisoners confined for minor offences, and diminish the cost of their maintenance, all committing magistrates will, on the 15th. and last days of each month, report to the judge of their county or District Court all commitments made by them during the preceding half month, specifying the date of commitments, the names of the prisoners, and the offences for which they were committed, to the end that the judges may, whenever in their opinion the number of prisoners or other considerations of public interest call for it, hold special terms of their courts, for the purpose of disposing of such cases. The additional expenses of holding such special terms will be a charge upon the State Treasury, and the accounts therefor will be audited and paid as accounts of a similar character are now audited and paid, and if the salaries now paid the judges should be inadequate in view of the additional labor performed by them, a reasonable addition, upon proper representations through the Governor of the State, will be allowed.

PILOTAGE.

V. The pilotage regulations now existing in the States of North and South Carolina are so far modified that, on and after the first day of March, 1868, all passenger steam vessels, regulated by the laws of the United States, and carrying a pilot commissioned by United States Commissioners, shall be exempt from the compulsory payment of pilotage.

SOUTH CAROLINA POLL TAX.

VI. So much of the act of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, entitled "An act to raise monies," ratified on the 26th. day of February, 1867, as makes it "the duty of all persons and corporations to list and pay the [poll] tax of each personable to the same, as are in their employment, on the 1st. day of April of each year, as laborers," is rescinded, and hereafter all such poll taxes will be assessed directly upon and collected directly from the individuals from whom they are due: provided, that the provisions of this order shall not apply to the taxes levied for the current year except that double poll tax shall not be enforced if the original tax be paid on or before the 1st. day of March, 1868.
